

The Galloway and Dumfriesshire Deer Group (GDDG) was established recently to promote effective and environmentally responsible deer management in Galloway and Dumfriesshire. A member of the Lowland Deer Network Scotland, the umbrella organisation of Deer Groups in Lowland Scotland.

The 4 species of deer in this area are Red, Roe, Fallow and Sika deer.

A key role of all deer groups in Scotland is in promoting Best Practice in deer management, deer welfare, stalker training and collating information which assists in estimating where, how many and which species of wild deer are present in the group area.

Who Should be A Member?

The Galloway and Dumfriesshire Deer Group is a self-financing group* providing a platform for land owners, managers and recreational stalkers to discuss matters of mutual interest regarding wild deer. It is the local forum for raising local management issues, planning local events and organising training.

We aim to have members from each significant land holding with a population of deer. Each member, or nominated representative, will have one vote.
